TOURISM

The Village of Arlington Heights turned to Americaneagle.com for the development of a new Web site that would focus on village tourism and business development. The new site, located at www.discoverarlington.com, was designed to provide visitors, residents, and businesses the opportunity to find all pertinent village information, from events to listings of restaurants, shopping, hotels, and more.

One of the site's finest tools is the "Find a Business" business directory. This tool enables local businesses to submit a listing to promote themselves. Upon village approval, these businesses can then login and edit their listing if desired. Visitors of the site now have easy access to search for businesses by category, such as apparel, dining, grocery, etc.. As an added convenient feature, visitors can also save a list of their favorite businesses through the tool's "Add to Favorites" button.
