News Story Page

The Houston Texans organization sought to create a new online presence—one that would place it among the elite in all of professional sports. The organization was looking to accomplish this through the development of a fully customized site.

In an effort to provide the Houston Texans with an unrivaled Web site, Americaneagle.com creates a brand-centric design with a strong focus on the user experience. Among the site's many dynamic features are: a custom-built multimedia player, Flash video header, advanced search filters, fan polls, and more. In addition, the site streamlines operations with a custom Content Management System which enables the Texans to always keep their site fresh.
